MAYOR'S OFFICE

February 5th, 2013

Dear Mayor,

RE: Mayor's Poetry City Challenge: A Celebration of Poetry, Writing and Publishing

Like Regina, your community is known for its support of culture and the arts. In 2012, the Mayor's office issued the Mayor's Poetry City Challenge to many communities across Canada. The challenge is for participating communities to have a poet from your community read a poem at the start of your Council meeting in March or April. Thirty communities from Victoria to Cornerbrook took part in the first Challenge.

As Regina's new Mayor, I invite you to participate in the 2013 Mayor's Poetry City Challenge. Like last year, you are asked to have a local poet read a poem at the start of your March or April Council meeting. The purpose is to recognize UNESCO's World Poetry Day on March 21 and National Poetry Month, which is celebrated in April in both Canada and the United States. This initiative is a celebration of poetry, writing, small presses and the contribution of poets and all writers to the cultural life in our communities. It also celebrates libraries and the work of so many of you to promote literacy and reading.

This project is a partnership between the City of Regina, the Saskatchewan Writers' Guild (SWG), and the League of Canadian Poets (LCP).

Participating Poetry City communities will be promoted in the media, in writing networks in Canada and the United States, and in communications with UNESCO. More information is provided in the attached information package.

Please confirm your intent to participate with my office by completing the attached contact information page to assist Saskatchewan Writers' Guild and the League of Canadian Poets in the management of the project.

A list of communities invited to participate in the challenge is provided in the package. Other cities are certainly welcome to join, but yours is one of those identified as a strong supporter of culture and the arts through our research.

Sincerely,

Michael Fougere
Mayor

Poetry City Project Management:

Saskatchewan Writers' Guild

Founded in 1969, the Saskatchewan Writers' Guild is a provincial cultural organization that represents writers in all disciplines and at all levels of achievement. It fosters excellence in Saskatchewan writing and promotes public awareness of our literature. It acts as an advocate for Saskatchewan writers, encourages the development of writers of all ages and levels, and strives to improve public access to Saskatchewan writers and their work. Membership is open to writers and those interested in Saskatchewan writing.

The Saskatchewan Writers' Guild works to create an environment where writers and all forms of writing flourish. We do this by supporting writers and by raising public awareness of the value of the work of Saskatchewan writers. The SWG objectives are:

- to work on behalf of writers and to improve their economic status
- to foster a sense of community
- to foster excellence in writing
- to make writers and their work accessible to the public
- to make writing and literature accessible at all levels of education

League of Canadian Poets

The League of Canadian Poets is the professional organization for established and emerging Canadian poets. Founded by six poets in 1966 to nurture the community of poets and the craft of poetry, it now represents some 700 members nationally. The League serves the poetry community and promotes a high level of professional achievement through events, networking, projects, publications, mentoring, and awards; administers programs and funds for governments and private donors; and encourages an appreciative readership and audience through educational partnerships and presentations to diverse groups. As the recognized voice of Canadian poets, it represents their concerns to governments, publishers, and the larger society, and maintains connections with similar organizations at home and abroad. The League strives to promote equal opportunities for poets from every literary tradition and cultural and demographic background.

National Poetry Month in April is one of the highest profiled programs of the The League of Canadian Poets. During the month, the League distributes posters and resource kits across Canada. It supports readings in schools, libraries, cafes, and many other venues. Its website is accessed by teachers and others. Your "Poetry City" will be recognized during National Poetry Month Activities and on the League's Website. Poetry Cities will be acknowledged in a media release, and at the April launch of National Poetry Month in Toronto, at 10:00 a.m. on April 2 at Q Space (382 College Street).

GUIDELINES FOR POETRY CITY COMMUNITIES

1. Be sure to provide the contact information for the person in your Administration who will be the lead for this project.
2. Choose a poet from your community to read a poem at your Council meeting in March or April 2013.
3. The Saskatchewan Writers' Guild or the League of Canadian Poets can suggest poets from their membership. A list of provincial writing organizations is also attached. These organizations have been advised of the project and can also help you to select your poet.
4. Please provide us with the contact information for your poet as soon as one is selected.
5. The objective is to have a poem entered into the formal minutes of your proceedings as a permanent record of the event. We suggest a minimum reading time of five minutes.
6. In order to support the Status of the Artist, all communities participating in the 2013 Mayor's Poetry City Challenge are encouraged to compensate the writer for their reading. This is similar to other payments to artists. For example, City of Regina will pay a fee of $125 to the poet reading at their Council meeting, which will cover preparation and travel, in addition to the reading itself.
7. Under provincial Status of the Artist Legislation, Saskatchewan communities should have an agreement with the artist. An example is attached.
8. Poets will be invited to post their poems on-line on the League of Canadian Poets website and on "Mayor's Poetry City Challenge" Facebook page created by the Saskatchewan Writers' Guild.
9. Participating communities will be identified in media releases and other promotions.
10. Please feel free to promote this event through your schools and other forums. The poems and teaching resources can be found on-line on the League of Canadian Poets National Poetry Month webpage in April at <http://poets.ca>. Information and activities for Young Poets Week from April 8-14, 2013 can be found on the same page.
