Avoiding Coyote Conflicts

Given the natural settings we are fortunate to enjoy in our community, coyotes are not uncommon to various parts of Brantford. Coyotes usually avoid people whenever possible, however, they are wild and should not be approached.

- NEVER feed coyotes. When coyotes associate people with food, it can lead to aggressive behaviour near people and pets
- Secure garbage containers with locking lids or in an enclosed structure
- Do not leave pets outside, unsupervised. Walk dogs on a leash
- Appreciate coyotes from a distance. If you encounter a coyote, pick up small children and pets, do not run, stand tall and make a lot of noise and back away from the coyote while remaining calm

Learn more and report coyote sightings at brantford.ca/Coyotes or by calling 519-759-4150.
